Abercrombie & Kent

Geoffrey Kent and his parents, Valerie and Colonel John Kent, founded Abercrombie & Kent in 1962. The company's beginnings were modest; Geoffrey Kent remembers their first safaris were conducted with little more than "a Bedford truck and my mother's sterling silver ice bucket." In 1967, Geoffrey Kent, now Managing Director following his parents' retirement, decided to expand A&K's signature style of travel. In 1969, he began opening additional companies in Africa; in 1971 he met Jorie Ford Butler of Oak Brook, Illinois and opened a sales office in the United States.

Today, A&K is the largest luxury tour operator worldwide, with over 55 offices in more than 30 countries, staffed by over 2,500 dedicated people. Our reputation allows A&K travellers private and sometimes exclusive access to amazing experiences around the world. With expertise in not only luxury travel but culture, wildlife and history, Abercrombie & Kent reveals each destination with an authenticity beyond the reach of any other travel company.

A&K in Southern Africa

Abercrombie & Kent is the one-stop travel shop for the Southern African region which includes South Africa, Botswana, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Namibia and Mozambique. Our regional on-site offices in Johannesburg, Cape Town and Maun ensures peace of mind when it comes to the safety and wellbeing of guests.

Southern Africa is a region of incredible diversity: in landscape, wildlife and culture. There is nowhere better to view the “Big Five” than South Africa’s luxurious private reserves, where A&K guests travel in open four-wheel-drive vehicles, allowing for unobstructed views of wildlife. Lion, leopard, buffalo, elephant and rhino can all be found and with highly skilled rangers who know just where to look. Bird life is prolific and for the sheer variety of flora, only the Amazon rivals the density of all species found here. South Africa also has a few Big Five malaria free national parks, perfect for families with young children.

In the Western Cape, Mediterranean in climate and European in culture, you will find ample opportunities for day cruises, nature hikes, wine tasting, shopping and simply soaking up the spectacular view.

Our knowledge and love for Southern Africa is reflected in the experiences we offer our guests and we are proud to be a true point of difference in travel to Southern Africa.

Safari in Southern Africa or East Africa?

Southern Africa

Wildlife

The wildlife in Southern Africa is as varied to that of East Africa, although less dense and found in smaller herds. Game trackers apply their skill in finding the elusive animals and it is a thrilling experience to be a part of the track. With Southern Africa having a large concentration of private game reserves, there is a higher frequency of close up safari experiences that take place when out in the bush.

Landscapes

Southern Africa has a stunning variety of superbly contrasting landscapes. From the deserts of Namibia with its rolling sand dunes onto the flat floodplains of the Okavango delta to the towering heights of the Drakensburg mountains.

Activities & Culture

Southern Africa offers a myriad of cultural experiences, along with active adventure, family explorations and wellness journeys. Cosmopolitan cities like Cape Town and Johannesburg offer unusual art experiences, and premium shopping for luxury fashion brands.

Food & Wine

South Africa in particular is a foodies heaven with a wide range of culinary delights to suit any traveler. There are also a huge number of spectacular vineyards farms along the coast.

Beaches

The best beaches in Southern Africa are found in Mozambique which can be reached from any of the Southern Africa countries, or hop over to Mauritius.

East Africa

Wildlife

The wildlife in East Africa, specifically in Kenya and Tanzania, is found in higher concentrations than elsewhere on the continent; the great wildebeest migration alone contains 2 million individuals. Rwanda and Uganda are also home to the two largest primate species and both these countries can be easily combined with a wildlife safari in Kenya or Tanzania.

Landscapes

There are a myriad of spectacular landscapes in East Africa - from the soaring mountains of Kilimanjaro and Kenya, the primate rich jungles in Rwanda and Uganda, the many rolling grassland savannahs and the long, wide beaches of

Activities & Culture

East Africa has numerous activities available from walking safaris to soaring over the plains in a hot air balloon. There are also a wide variety of cultures for guests to experience from the more famous Masai to the lesser known pygmy Batwa.

Food & Wine

Not a renowned destination for food but the properties offer delicious meals. There is also the option for guests to have a local cooking class in a village to experience how the locals live.

Beaches

Both Kenya and Tanzania have glorious beaches with powder-white sandy beaches just a short flight away from the national parks and reserves.
