all things photography

Pictures have captivated humans since the beginning of our time on this planet from cave paintings to the high-resolution images and videos we can capture now. For many it is the essence or purpose of a safari, who will believe your stories and experiences without being able to see it for themselves? East and Southern Africa offers so much visual stimulus for all levels of photographer. Our wildlife, birdlife, cultures, colours and landscapes are second to none and being able to capture that magic is important. Inside this marketing piece we explore some of our favourite photographic hides, vehicles, editing labs and curated experiences to enhance any journey.
